SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT
TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF EDUCATION
AND CITIZENS OF JEFFERSON

Teachers:

Several changes occurred in our teaching force this year. Mr. Richard Columbia of Canaan, N. H. was appointed Headmaster in place of Mr. Gray who resigned to take charge of the Hopkinton High School. Mrs. Nevers, who had taught at Hanover for a year, resumed her position as assistant in the High School. Miss Carpenter transferred from Starrking to the intermediate room at the Hill, and Miss Martha Hayward of Penacook took her place. Miss Doris Hildreth of Lisbon took charge at the Highlands, and at the Riverton school, Miss Dorothy Hawkins of Berlin was appointed. All of the newly appointed teachers are experienced graduates of approved teacher training institutions.

Repairs:

The foundation of the building at the Highlands was repaired in a thorough manner. The rooms at the Meadows was redecorated and the heating apparatus changed so as to give better service. The shingling at the Riverton school was finished, and the furnace given a thorough cleaning. Our buildings are now in an excellent state of repair.

New Equipment:

A new set of encyclopedias has been purchased for the High School, and several movable desk chairs have been provided for the recitation room. New texts have been supplied in all of the schools and several reference books added to the Library.

Health:

The physical defects of each child were noted by the school physician at the time of the annual examination, and notices of these defects sent to the parents. The children have been weighed once a month. In the Biology class at the Hill the pupils under the direction of Mrs. Nevers, have made a drive on the prevention of colds, with special attention to diet and general sanitation. Some valuable results have been achieved.

Educational Values:

The fact that education pays in many ways has been demonstrated over and over again. That it pays financially is shown by the fact that the most prosperous towns are those that have always spent the most for education. Increased returns to the individual which result in a richer, fuller life, is another outcome of a better education. A dollar invested in worth while education yields rich returns in all that makes life worth living. To shut off our expenditures for education would be like removing the engine from a moving train. The splendid records achieved by many of the graduates of the Jefferson schools is a potent argument for keeping the children in school as long as possible.

Finances:

Careful management has made it possible to again reduce the budget without lowering the standards. It is a tribute to the members of the School Board that our finances have been so well managed.

WILLIAM G. FULLER.
